Course Outline

The development of Chinese archaeology in the past decades has completely reshaped our knowledge about human and cultural developments in a landmass called China today. This course will discuss the history and development of Chinese archaeology, the subjects, theories, research approaches of archaeology in mainland China, how archaeology is related to the construction of Chinese identity and nationalism, as well as academic problems and debates.

Major contents of this course

1. Introduction- the natural and cultural context of human and cultural evolution in China
2. A brief history of Chinese archaeology
3. Important discoveries of Chinese archaeology from the Palaeolithic, the Neolithic to the historical period
4. Who were the ancestors of contemporary “Chinese”?
5. “Central” vs. “peripheries”: who created Chinese civilization?
6. Trade and inter-regional cultural interaction in Chinese archaeology
7. Issues about humanities and archaeological science in Chinese archaeology
8. Marxism vs. “the others”: the theoretical framework of Chinese archaeology
9. Comparative study: how archaeology in China differs from that in the West?
10. Chinese archaeology in a globalized world today: problems and issues

Learning outcomes

After taking this course, students are expected to:

- know the natural and cultural contexts of archaeology in China
- have a basic understanding of the major issues, history and scholars of Chinese archaeology
- understand ancient cultural development and human evolution in China, and the consequences and impact of these developments upon contemporary Chinese culture

- know how archaeological work is related to the political and economic issues in contemporary China
- cultivate the abilities of cross-culture, inter-disciplinary and critical thinking

Learning activities

2-hour lectures and 1-hour tutorial per week for one semester, including a field trip to visit archaeological sites in South China

Medium of instruction

Cantonese

Submissions & academic honesty

As required by the university, from Sept. 2008, students must submit a soft copy of their computer-generated text assignments to VeriGuide at a specified URL. The system will issue a receipt containing a declaration of honesty statement. Students should sign the receipt, print a hard copy of their assignment, and submit the hard copy and the receipt to teachers for grading. The university says that assignments without the receipt will NOT be graded.

Please check the website "Honesty in Academic Work" at:

<http://www.cuhk.edu.hk/policy/academichonesty/> for more information on plagiarism and on how to submit papers through VeriGuide

Grade descriptors are as follows for the assessment of this course:

Grade Overall course

A Outstanding performance on all learning outcomes.

A- Generally outstanding performance on all (or almost all) learning outcomes.

B Substantial performance on all learning outcomes, OR high performance on some learning outcomes which compensates for less satisfactory performance on others, resulting in overall substantial performance.

C Satisfactory performance on the majority of learning outcomes, possibly with a few weaknesses.

D Barely satisfactory performance on a number of learning outcomes

F Unsatisfactory performance on a number of learning outcomes, OR failure to meet specified assessment requirements.

Course assessment:
