Fall 2024

Lecture: Wednesday 12:30-2:15, Humanities Building 12

Tutorials: Wednesday 2:30-3:15, 3:30-4:15, and TBA

Teacher: Gordon MATHEWS, NAH 410, cmgordon@cuhk.edu.hk

This course is designed to teach you what cultural anthropology is all about in today's world. We begin by looking at how cultural and social anthropologists do anthropology, focusing on ethnography and theory. We then explore, in turn, the relation of culture to biology and environment, to language, to family, gender, and life-course, to economics, to power and politics, and to religion. We then look at ethnicity and nation, examine globalization and what it means, and consider global anthropology and the future of anthropology.

The course objectives (learning outcomes) are to enable you to:

- a) acquire a broad understanding of what cultural anthropology is and the fields and topics anthropology explores, and
- b) begin to think in an anthropological way and be able to use in a basic way anthropological ideas in analyzing the world.

The course will be graded as follows:

--take-home midterm examination (30%): 6 pages, handed out Oct. 16, due Oct. 30

--take-home final examination (50%): 9 pages, handed out Nov. 20; due Dec. 9

--class participation (20%)

The take-home midterm and final exams will focus on your comprehension of the readings, videos, and lectures. These exams will require you to synthesize what you have learned in thinking more deeply about anthropological questions.

One book partially used in the course is J. Spradley and D. McCurdy (eds), Conformity and Conflict: Readings in Cultural Anthropology, (14th edition). We also read from Sapiens, an on-line journal devoted to anthropological topics. We also read from other books, and newspaper and magazine articles as well, so that you will be able to see the relevance of what we are studying to a broad range of issues in contemporary life. Readings for the course are available on Blackboard.

Students are required by university policy to submit all papers to VeriGuide (the Chinese University Plagiarism Identification Engine System). Please check the website <http://www.cuhk.edu.hk/policy/academichonesty/> for more information on how to submit papers through VeriGuide.

Grade Descriptors

A Outstanding performance on all learning outcomes, through work that has creatively synthesized course materials and key ideas, to the extent that you show a depth of understanding as great as my own. Your arguments in your work are logical and cohesive, the discussion is well-organized, and the writing is clear. All relevant course materials have been fully utilized in your work, and additional material as well has been used from your own research.

A- Outstanding performance on all learning outcomes, through work has creatively synthesized course materials and key ideas. Your arguments in your work are logical and cohesive, the discussion is well-organized, and the writing is clear. All relevant course materials have been fully utilized in your work, and perhaps additional material as well from your own research.

B+ Substantial performance on all learning outcomes. Your arguments in your work are largely logical and cohesive, the discussion is generally well-organized, and the writing is clear. Most relevant course materials have been fully utilized in your work. There are areas for improvement with respect to building a cohesive argument, organizing the discussion, communicating clearly, and/or identifying relevant evidence and using all course materials, but by and large you have turned in good, solid work.

B Satisfactory performance on all learning outcomes, OR high performance on some learning outcomes which compensates for less satisfactory performance on others, resulting in overall satisfactory performance. Your arguments in your work are somewhat logical and cohesive, the discussion is somewhat well-organized, and the writing is somewhat clear. Much relevant course materials have been fully utilized in your work. There are areas for improvement with respect to building a cohesive argument, organizing the discussion, communicating clearly, and/or identifying relevant evidence.

B- Adequate performance on all learning outcomes, OR satisfactory performance on some learning outcomes which compensates for less satisfactory performance on others, resulting in overall largely adequate performance. Your arguments in your work are partially logical and cohesive, the discussion is partially organized, and the writing is somewhat clear. Some relevant course materials have been fully utilized in your work. There are areas for improvement with respect to building a cohesive argument, organizing the discussion, communicating clearly, and/or identifying relevant evidence.

C+ Adequate performance on the majority of learning outcomes. Your written work shows some effort, but course materials have not been sufficiently engaged. The argument and the writing is not clear, and/or there is less than full evidence for statements and claims made. There are areas for improvement with respect to building a cohesive argument, organizing the discussion, communicating clearly, and/or identifying relevant evidence.

C, C- Barely adequate performance on a number of learning outcomes. These grade will be awarded to students who have missed a large number of classes and have failed to use course materials in their written answers.
